ILLINOIS FARM BUREAU MEMBERS DEBATE, ADOPT NEW POLICY DURING ANNUAL MEETING

Illinois Farm Bureau's traditional grassroots process was on full display during the organization's 2025 Annual Meeting as 324 voting members considered and adopted new policy on topics such as land use and farmland preservation, development of new uses and new markets, labor and more.

Members gathered at the Hyatt Regency in Chicago Dec. 6-8 to celebrate the year's successes and introduce new policies that will guide the organization over the next year. In total, voting members debated and approved 36 policy submittals.

Policy highlights include:

- New policy language calling for opposition to the development of data centers, cryptocurrency mining operations, and similar facilities if they decrease the reliability of the electric grid, increase the cost of electricity to the rural community, or have the potential to deplete aquifers that communities depends on.
- Support for expanding consumer and wholesale market opportunities for Illinois poultry producers to process on the farm at USDA/FSIS limits. Support for retailers to increase the availability of Illinois-grown products and IDOA advertising directly to consumers to purchase Illinois-grown products.

- A new subheading on 'Specialty Crops' calling for expanding the size and scope of specialty crop insurance tools, a permanent structure to deliver emergency economic assistance, expanding and permanent various direct purchase and procurement programs, support for industry research and grant programs that promote new agronomy practices and technologies, partnerships among industry participants, infrastructure development, and the adoption of on-farm value-added activities.
- New policy language supporting H-2A Work Program Administration calling for clarity in H-2A regulations and administration, streamlining the application process to support electronic application filing, employers filing a single application for labor needs, even if needs are staggered throughout the year, removing the "seasonality" requirement to make all agricultural jobs eligible, lengthening the term of

ILLINOIS FARM BUREAU MEMBERS ELECT PHILIP NELSON AS PRESIDENT, RE-ELECT EVAN HULTINE AS VICE PRESIDENT

Illinois Farm Bureau (IFB) members elected Philip Nelson, a grain and livestock farmer from Seneca in LaSalle County, as the organization's 17th president, and re-elected Evan Hultine, a grain farmer from Princeton in Bureau County, as vice president. They will each serve a two-year term at the helm of the organization.

"I thank all of you for the confidence that you've put into me to lead this organization again," Nelson told delegates following the election. "I'm thrilled. I love this organization."

Five new members were also elected to serve two-year terms on the IFB Board of Directors. IFB is a nonprofit membership organization directed by farmers who join through their county Farm Bureau. IFB's 324 voting delegates elected these leaders during the organization's annual meeting in Chicago.

Nelson is a fourth-generation farmer and farms with his wife, Carmen, and family members Kendall, Rachel and Kyle. He previously served as IFB's 14th president from 2003 to 2013, vice president from 1999 to 2003, and LaSalle County Farm Bureau president. He also held the position of Trade Advisory Chair of the American Farm Bureau Federation (AFBF) and served on the AFBF Board of Directors for 10 years. He was the Illinois Director of Agriculture in 2015.

Hultine has served as IFB vice president since 2023. He has held various leadership roles with Bureau County Farm Bureau (BCFB), including president from 2017 to 2023, BCFB Foundation president and the Young Leader Committee

- stay for workers, a quicker, less intensive application process for hiring H-2A workers if the farm has had no changes from the previous year, farmer and worker sharing the expenses of the guest worker program visas, transportation, housing, and related expenses, and allowing workers with remaining time on their visa to work on other qualified farms.
- New policy language would also oppose the Adverse Effect Wage Rate (AEWR) being above the state minimum wage and additional state regulations that add application processing delays.
 - New policy to support regenerative agriculture practices referring to improving soil health and function, the key principles focusing on keeping soil covered, minimizing soil disturbance, keeping living roots as often as possible, maximizing biodiversity and integrating livestock, within local context.
 - Support for incentives being based on a menu of regenerative agriculture practices, rather than a prescriptive list, policy supporting regenerative practices, and education, outreach and technical assistance around the value and implementation of regenerative agriculture practices.
 - Approximately 2,024 IFB members and staff registered to attend the conference in which members celebrated individual and organizational achievements in 2025.

KITCHEN LEGACIES

Homemade Dishes Outlive Generations

Field meals deliver their own form of heroism, and Mom saves the day. She dishes out the seasonal suppers spring and fall with guidance from her sidekicks – women past and present who submitted their kitchen’s best recipes to a church cookbook. Leah’s fiesta bake, Marie’s orange salad, Debra’s pizza casserole and Ann’s marble squares have fueled our field crew for years.

Out here in farm country, the names of past landowners often carry forward, becoming part of the land’s identity long after ownership has changed. For instance, the “Lievens Back Bottom,” which my parents have owned half my life, was previously tended by the late Mr. and Mrs. Lievens. I’ll spare you 50 more examples. My point: the same goes for good, home-cooked food.

Thanks to small-town recipe books, home cooks earned their own version of legacy status without needing acreage on a balance sheet. Instead, they claimed a kitchen, embraced a passion and created recipes or refined family ones in 9×13 batches that fed and delighted the local masses.

Long before Google became a verb, churches published cookbooks filled with personal recipe submissions, each tied to a name. No digital versions exist of these limited-edition paper relics. There are no pictures. No reviews. Each recipe stands solely on the credibility of the cook who submitted it as a time-tested family favorite – and that alone serves as a built-in 5-star rating.

I have proof with Lorraine’s broccoli soup, Pam’s pizza crust, Lou’s cool cucumber pasta and Mary’s Thanksgiving dressing. Mom and I made 12 batches of Kathy’s hash brown au gratin for a farm wedding. I adore Susan’s corn casserole and chuck wagon baked beans. And Grandma’s published recipe for frosted banana bars is better than bread. It freezes well, too.

The book entries tell stories. Ingredients like strawberries, zucchini, rhubarb and blackberries signal home gardeners and wild blackberry pickers who love to cook. The salad section proves that Jell-O and Cool Whip absolutely qualify as salads by Midwestern standards.

I own hundreds of pages of local recipes in five cookbooks. Mom has a dozen. Grandma’s stash fills a cabinet, and my aunt collects them. The recipes are worth repeating, the novelty worth preserving and the pages a testament to the women who – in their quiet heroism – fed a community. And still do.

About the author: Joanie Stiers farms with her parents and brother in Knox County, where they grow corn, soybeans and hay, raise beef cattle and operate side businesses related to the family operation.

Strong Enough to Bend;

TURNING BREAKDOWNS INTO BREAKTHROUGHS!

A fun, informative night for the ladies that live and work in agriculture! Coffee, dessert and good ole’ girl power!

Thursday, January 29, 2026
6:00 p.m.

Black Hawk College East Campus Auditorium, Building A
26230 Black Hawk Rd, Galva, IL

Women in ag are tough. We carry families, farms, and futures on our backs, and we still manage to show up to town looking halfway decent (well, some days). But real strength isn’t about never breaking; it’s about being brave enough to bend before you snap. Adrienne’s message is a celebration of the women who hold it all together– even when they’re running on caffeine and sheer willpower– and a reminder that vulnerability isn’t weakness, it’s leadership. Together, we’ll laugh, exhale, and find tools to care for ourselves and the people we love. You’ll leave feeling grounded, hopeful, and remembering that strong women don’t do it all– we do what matters...with grit, grace, and a whole lot of girl power.

Henry & Stark County Health Departments Note January-Radon Action Month

The Henry and Stark County Health Departments note that January has been proclaimed National Radon Action Month in Illinois, by calling attention to the fact that radon is the second-leading cause of lung cancer overall and the leading cause of lung cancer for non-smokers.

RaeAnn Tucker, Health Department Director of Health Promotion, notes, "It really doesn't matter where you live in Illinois or what type of home you live in, because we've seen excessive radon in every county in Illinois, and in every type of home - old, new, with basements, with a crawlspace or on a slab."

Radon is a colorless, odorless, tasteless radioactive gas that comes from the radioactive decay of naturally occurring uranium in the soil. It can enter homes and buildings through small cracks in the foundation, sump pumps or soil in crawlspaces.

The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) estimates that radon causes 21,000 deaths annually. That's because when you breathe air containing radon, you can get lung cancer.

The State of Illinois has enacted the Illinois Radon Awareness Act. According to this law, anyone buying a home, condominium or other residential property in Illinois must be provided with information about indoor radon exposure and the fact that radon is the leading cause of lung cancer in non-smokers and the second leading cause overall.

Since radon gas is undetectable, specialized radon detectors must be used to measure the amount of radon gas present in the air. The Environmental Health Division of the Henry and Stark County Health Department announces that they now have Radon Home Test kits available for purchase through their offices in Kewanee, Colona and Toulon. The kits are being offered at the low cost of $15 per kit.

Tucker adds, "Radon gas is found in 66% of homes in Henry County and 92% of homes in Stark County.

Testing your home is the only way to know if you have elevated levels of radon. If radon levels, above the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's (USEPA) action level of 4 picocuries per liter of air (pCi/L), are detected in your home; the Health Department can provide you with information regarding radon mitigation on our website at www.henrystarkhealth.com.

HENRY COUNTY FARM BUREAU FOUNDATION TO AWARD $60,000 IN SCHOLARSHIPS

The Henry County Farm Bureau Foundation is offering up to eight Agricultural scholarships, at a minimum of $1,500 and up to two General scholarships, at a minimum of $1500. In addition, Farm Bureau will be administering the following scholarships: Wilbert and Carol Keppy Foundation, four each in the amount of $5,000; Kevin and Karen Urick Farm Bureau Legacy Scholarship, in the amount of $1,000; Glenn and Betty DeSmith Memorial Scholarship, three in the amount of $5,000 each; Trade and Technical Program Scholarship, up to six at a minimum amount of $1,000 each; James Ufkin Memorial Scholarship, in the amount of $1,000; and the Robert J. and Donna Jean Dobbels Memorial Scholarship, two in the amount of $1,000 each.

The Henry County Farm Bureau Foundation was formed in the Spring of 1984 to carry out charitable, scientific, literary, and educational work in the field of agriculture. The Foundation awards scholarships each year to graduating high school seniors and college students pursuing degrees in Agriculture.

Wilbert and Carol Keppy farmed and raised hogs along the Osco slab for decades. The Keppy's were instrumental in starting the Henry County Pork Producers and were among a group of pork producers throughout the state that started the Illinois Pork Producers in the early 1960s. The Keppy Foundation annually provides scholarships for students in Henry County.

The Kevin and Karen Urick Farm Bureau Legacy Scholarship honors a recipient from a farm family, that has been involved for multiple generations, in Henry County Farm Bureau. Farm Bureau has impacted the Urick family for multiple generations. This scholarship is designed to honor the organization that has served as an educational, social, and economic tool for its members, as the "Voice of Agriculture" in Henry County, since 1917.

The Glenn and Betty DeSmith Memorial Scholarship honors the life of Glenn and Betty DeSmith of Geneseo. Glenn proudly served his country in the Army during the Korean War from January 1951 to January 1953. The DeSmith's farmed southwest of Annawan until their retirement in 1990. Glenn and Betty were very active in the community and their church. Glenn served on the Henry County Farm Bureau Board and the Henry County Soil and Water Conservation District Board, receiving the Henry County Conservation award in 1975. The DeSmith Memorial Scholarship recognizes students who are involved in the livestock industry and their family farms.

The James Ufkin Memorial Scholarship honors the life, legacy and service of Jim Ufkin. Jim was a life-long farmer, retiring to Geneseo after 46 years of farming corn, soybeans and raising hogs near Hooppole, IL. He served on the Board of Directors of the Henry County Farm Bureau for 40 years, representing Yorktown and Geneseo townships and held the offices of Vice President and Secretary. During that time Jim also served on the Board of the Henry County Farm Bureau Foundation. Mr. Ufkin was a dedicated leader in the agriculture community in Henry County and beyond.

The Robert J. and Donna Jean Dobbels Memorial Scholarship honors life-long farmers and livestock producers, Bob and Donna Dobbels. The Dobbels family farmed in rural Cambridge, from 1954 until retiring in 1995. The Dobbels joined the Henry County Farm Bureau in 1954 and went on to hold outstanding leadership roles during their time as members. Bob served on the Board of Directors as Weller Township Director for 7 years and held the office of Secretary for 6 years. Donna was a member of the Women's Committee and held the office of Chair for ten years. The Dobbels dedicated their lives to agriculture and the youth of Henry County through their leadership and dedication.

This year the HCFB Foundation Board is continuing the Trade and Technical Program Scholarship for those pursuing a skilled trade or technical career.
